

NEWS FROM NOTTOWAY

Mr. John S. Epes Sells His Farm for $10,000

WILL MOVE INTO TOWN

Wheat Crop Such a Failure Many Farmers Have to Buy Their Seed.

To Get Baptist School if Possible.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BLACKSTONE, VA., October 31.—During the past week there has been more activity apparent among the different candidates for county offices than all of the previous weeks taken together. They appear to be following each other in a sort of endless chain variety, and the voters say there is no end to this. All will be glad when Tuesday has come and gone.

In the past few days some interest has been created in some of the contents by the circulation of different reports. These refer to different things, from trades in oranges to shortages in funds, and it is evident that future developments will be looked for by the public with more than ordinary interest.

It is doubtless true that some surprises are in store, both for individuals and the public, and knowing ones are making all sorts of predictions.

At a called meeting of the Board of Trade, held on Tuesday afternoon, it was decided to make more strenuous efforts to secure the location here of the Baptist Female School, for which several parties here have been working for the last year or two.

With this object in view, a committee of two, composed of Messrs. T. M. Dillard and George F. Adams, was selected to attend the meeting of the Baptist Association, which meets in Staunton in November, to urge before the Executive Committee of that body the many advantages offered by Blackstone as the best suited point for the location of the school.

A sale of a very valuable farm was consummated a few days ago, when Mr. John S. Epes sold his home place to some Northern party. The farm contains about 600 acres, and the reported price is $10,000 or $40 per acre.

It is the intention of Mr. Epes to move his family to Blackstone and to make his place his home. His present home is three miles distant in the country.

The Baptists have finally been notified that the call extended by Rev. W. B. Daugherty, of Eastville, Northampton county, has been accepted by him, and that he will come prepared to enter upon his work on the first of December.

The charges which united in the call to Blackstone, Jonesboro and Burkeville. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union gave a literary entertainment at the Methodist Church this week, which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Ings, recitations and songs were rendered, the selection of which were very appropriate, and were well received by the audience.

The second sermon in the course, which is being delivered the first Sunday in each month at the Institute, will be delivered by Bishop John C. Granbery. He will preach at the Methodist Church on Sunday morning.

NEW CHURCH.
The foundations for the new Methodist Church are now laid, and the superstructure will begin at once. It will be a handsome building, and will cost about ten thousand dollars.

Several new residences are under construction here now, while others are just being completed. Among the former are those of Mr. Lee and Mrs. Thornton and of the latter are those of Mr. H. H. Say and Mr. J. D. Crawley. Mr. Say will occupy his next week, while it will be a few weeks longer before Mr. Crawley can occupy his.

The wheat crop in this section was such a failure the past season that some farmers are forced to buy seed with which to do their fall seeding. For this they are paying in some instances as much as $1.25 per bushel.

It is not expected that any change will be made by the approaching Methodist Conference in either of the ministers located here, one on this station and the other on the circuit. Both have served two years, and are expected to be returned.

Several fine samples of sweet potatoes have been exhibited here the past week. One by Mr. W. F. Kennedy, of Lunenburg county, weighed six pounds, and one by Dr. J. M. Davis, of Dinwiddie county, weighed seven and one-half pounds.

Several from this place expect to attend the reunion of the survivors of the "Carter Flight" in Petersburg on the 8th of November. So far as is known, there is only one of the participants of that memorable encounter in this immediate section. That one is Hon. P. Stith, ex-Mayor of this place. He says he would not miss the above event for half his worldly possessions. He is without a "silver hair."

Several from this section attended the Confederate Veterans' annual reunion at Newport News this week, and all of them have not yet returned. The fight with "a good time" was so fierce that some of the stragglers will not get back before Monday or later.

TOBACCO CROP.

While the tobacco crop is reported large in this section, but little of it has yet found its way to market, and of this only the poorer varieties have been offered. The market is as yet uncertain, and this is doubtless causing the farmers to hold back in selling. When it does begin to move there will, of course, be a rush, and "glutted" markets will be the result.

It is said that there are many fine cattle in this section, from which good prices are expected. The scarcity of labor for mowing crops has caused many farmers to also move stock, and the advance in this is being appreciated by many of our more progressive planters. Some few are devoting almost their entire attention to stock raising.

Another large sale of timber took place a few days ago a few miles below here in the edge of Dinwiddie county, when M. E. S. Hobbs, of that county, sold his first tract of pine timber to a Northern party. The price received is said to be unusually good one, which shows what a demand there is for good timber.

It is to be chiefly manufactured into barrel headings, a large plant for which is to be established at an early date, to cut several thousand dollars. There are several millions of feet embraced in the deal.

READ'S SAFE RUN

The Mann Bill Not a Subject of Political Discussion.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BOYDTON, VA., Oct. 31.—The political situation in legislative matters in Mecklenburg, so far as the Democrats are concerned, is not a subject of political discussion. The Republicans have placed no candidate in the field for the Legislature, S. P. Read, an ex-State Senator, was nominated at the recent Democratic primary in this county for the House of Delegates, and is a man to whom not even the Democrats are opposed.

Mr. Read has spent much time in politics, having served in both branches of the Legislature, and is well equipped to serve the State.

He is about sixty years of age and enjoys the confidence and esteem of his countrymen in an eminent degree. The charges which united in the call to Blackstone, Jonesboro and Burkeville. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union gave a literary entertainment at the Methodist Church this week, which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Ings, recitations and songs were rendered, the selection of which were very appropriate, and were well received by the audience.

The second sermon in the course, which is being delivered the first Sunday in each month at the Institute, will be delivered by Bishop John C. Granbery. He will preach at the Methodist Church on Sunday morning.

NEW CHURCH.
The foundations for the new Methodist Church are now laid, and the superstructure will begin at once. It will be a handsome building, and will cost about ten thousand dollars.

Several new residences are under construction here now, while others are just being completed. Among the former are those of Mr. Lee and Mrs. Thornton and of the latter are those of Mr. H. H. Say and Mr. J. D. Crawley. Mr. Say will occupy his next week, while it will be a few weeks longer before Mr. Crawley can occupy his.

The wheat crop in this section was such a failure the past season that some farmers are forced to buy seed with which to do their fall seeding. For this they are

BLOOD POISON

Bone Pains, Itching, Scabby Skin Diseases,

Swellings, Carbuncles, Pimples, Scrofula permanently cured by taking Botanic Blood Balm. It destroys the active poison in the blood. IF YOU HAVE aches and pains in bones, back and joints, itching, scabby skin, blood feels hot or thin, Swollen Glands, Rinsings and Bumps on the Skin, Mucous Patches in Mouth, Sore Throat, Pimples or offensive eruptions, Copper-Colored Spots or Rash on Skin, all run down for nervous, Ulcers on any part of the body, Hair or Eyebrows falling out, Carbuncles or Boils, take Botanic Blood Balm, guaranteed to cure even the worst and most deep-seated cases, where doctors, patent medicines and hot springs fail. Heals all sorts of blood and skin diseases, makes all swellings, makes blood pure and rich, completely changing the entire body into a clean, healthy condition. B.B.B. has cured thousands of cases of Blood Poison, even after reaching the last stages.

Old Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema are caused by an awful poisoned condition of the blood. B.B.B. cures Catarrh, sore Throat, and Stomach, Rheumatism, with Aches and Pains, heals all Scabs, Scabies, Eruptions, Watery Blisters, with Itching and Scratching of Eczema, by giving a pure, healthy blood supply to affected parts.

Cancer Cured.
Botanic Blood Balm cures Cancers of all kinds, Suppurating Swellings, Eating Sores, Tumors, Ugly Warts, kills the Cancer Poison and heals the Sores or worst Cancer perfectly. If you have a persistent Pimple, Wart, Swelling, Shooting, Stinging Pains, take Blood Balm and they will disappear before they develop into Cancer. Many apparently hopeless cases of Cancer cured by taking Botanic Blood Balm.

OUR GUARANTEE.
Take a large bottle of Botanic Blood Balm (B.B.B.) and direct the amount and when the right quantity is taken, a cure is certain, sure and lasting. If not cured your money will promptly be refunded without argument.

Botanic Blood Balm (B.B.B.) is pleasant and safe to take. Thoroughly tested for thirty years. Composed of Pure Botanic Ingredients. Strengthens Weak Kidneys and Weak Stomachs, cures Dyspepsia, Sold by all Druggists. It per Large Bottle, with complete directions for home cure. SAMPLE SENT FREE by writing Blood Balm Co., No. 6 Blood Balm Building, Atlanta, Ga. Describe your trouble, and special free medical advice, also sent in sealed letter.

bled and it is quite probable that further increase of the clerical staff will soon be necessary.

Plans for the erection of new piers to accommodate the increased amount of freight now handled are under way. Bids for the construction of the new piers will shortly be submitted and by the time of the bid opening, the piers will be ready to complete the expensive system of piers and warehouses contemplated.

The piers will be built out to deep-water. In order that the largest ocean going steamships may lie at the docks and be loaded with the freight which are now handled in great volume by the line.

The cable connection, it is interesting to recall the story printed a few days ago, affecting the intentions of Mr. Henry Walters, head of the Atlantic Coast Line system, to form a still larger combination of Southern railways.

It was pointed out at the time in these columns that the very same man, in the case of the consummation of the plan, he the deepwater terminal of the combination. It is apparent that the Coast Line people are preparing to be ready for any contingency of the kind and the scope of the improvements at Pinners' Point would seem to indicate that the plan is a standpoint at least. Mr. Walters' reported plans may be expected to materialize.

GIGANTIC UNDERTAKING

Work Commenced on the Big Dry Dock at Norfolk Yard.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., Oct. 31.—At the navy-yard in this city all arrangements have been completed and actual work begun on the gigantic undertaking of constructing a great concrete dry-dock, capable of holding any armored cruiser or battleship now afloat or likely to be built.

The big hole in the ground is to cost a round million dollars, and three years will be required in which to complete the work. Therefore the contractor, J. C. Rogers, of New York, is losing no time in getting his plant installed for the contract says he must begin to dig on the 1st of November.

The ground in to the south of the present dry-dock, which has for many decades been used for a scrap heap, has been with a few years transformed into a busy hive of activity. The hundreds of workmen engaged in the preliminary work on the new dry-dock are at their toil. The space in the ground which the dock has been encircled with a long railway track for the transfer of material. The contractor has his own cars and locomotives. A long line of tracks leads to the wharf, which has been especially constructed for dumping the thousands of square feet of earth which must be removed from the 500-foot hole.

The disposition of this earth is in itself a problem. The contractor hopes it will be taken off his hands by some of the enterprising Portsmouth and Norfolk people who are constantly making new lots out in the river and building mansions on them.

The dock will be some thirty feet below tide level. Many excavating machines will be used, and the work will be done by drivers in position at the dry-dock plant to make a man from the oil regions (mine) himself. Regular stump pullers will be needed by the contractor in getting out some of the old boiler and rejected armor plate buried far below the surface of the ground on which he is working.

The sides of the big hole in the ground will be braced by hundreds of pillars, and the bottom will be supported by a chain of the 16,000-ton battleships which will be put in the dock for repairs. When the dock is completed it is for these ships that the dock is being built. Lack of such a basin has deprived us, the most central location for the construction of work on the larger ships of the navy which have come here.

It will be necessary to complete the piling before the concrete, which is to form the face of the dock, is put on. There will be many hundred thousand barrels of this material received by the contractor, and arrangements have been made for receiving and mixing the stuff in unheard-of quantities.

Mr. L. Sylvester, representing the contractor, is on the ground. He says the dock will be ready for delivery on contract time.

Another Trial.

Perhaps he "made it up" but a Philadelphia photographer tells this as having actually happened. A woman entered his studio.

"Are you the photographer?"

"Yes, madame."

"Do you take children's pictures?"

"Yes, certainly."

"How much do you charge?"

"Three dollars a dozen."

"Well," said the woman, sorrowfully, "I'll have to see you again. I've only got seven."—Philadelphia Ledger.

LONG-LOST POPLAR TREE

Starting Point of Survey of Yorktown.

A VERY REMARKABLE MAP

Ancient Engineering That Would Be Valuable if the Starting Point Was Known—Primaries a Much-Discussed Question.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

YORKTOWN, VA., October 31.—In the latter part of the seventeenth century, in nearly its closing years, this hamlet on the York was first laid off by an English engineer, at the express command of his most illustrious British sovereign. The ancient plat now on record in the clerk's office shows quite a piece of professional skill for those days in the line of engineering, with the exception of one great, grand mistake, the starting point.

And what an awful blunder, horrible mistake, reason-defying conception, that painstaking surveyor made when he selected an old poplar tree as the initial point of his work. "Starting from a poplar tree," so reads the plat, but at this time, for years and years back, even beyond the past century, the poplar tree has never been discovered. More than one man of modern times has puzzled his tired brain in attempting its discovery, and with the same unvarying failure. The streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

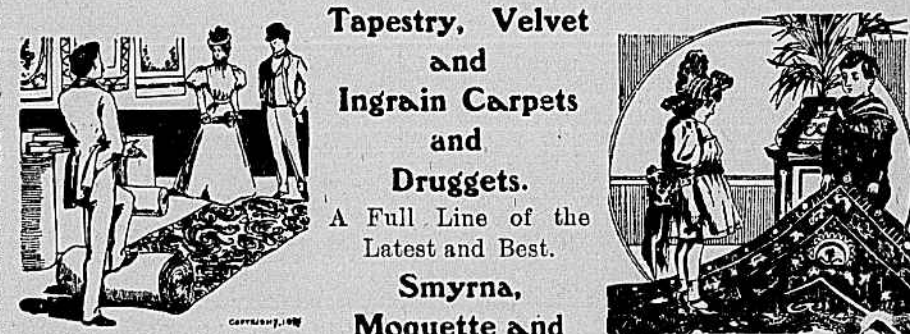

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

Several surveys have been made in recent years by order of court, but no two have been anything near alike, owing, of course, to the impossibility of obtaining a correct start. Property holders are consequently very uneasy as to their lines, not knowing in case of a rapid advance in value, not at all improbable in these progressive times, where they might find their real estate. Where the patron saint of progress waits his wand of error, the streets seem singularly crooked and irregular; the oldest buildings, ancient landmarks, appear to face them at every conceivable angle, and the whole town has an appearance of chaos and confusion when its conformation is consulted.

ROTHERT & CO.

ALTHOUGH we are in the midst of our fall trade we have not allowed our stock to become depleted in any department, but on the contrary have continued to add to it the newest and best products of the factories, and the splendid assortment which we have gathered for your inspection cannot be surpassed.

And our credit system at cash prices enables us to accommodate those whose means do not justify large cash purchases. Now is the time to make your selections, as we are prepared to furnish any and everything from kitchen to parlor.

Tapestry, Velvet and Ingrain Carpets and Druggets. A Full Line of the Latest and Best. Smyrna, Moquette and Tapestry Rugs, All Sizes. A Splendid Rug 1½ Yards Long for $1.00.

Oil, Gas, Wood, Soft and Hard Coal

COMFORTABLE MORRIS CHAIRS.

Solid Oak and Velour Cushions. Only $5.00.

Others up to $16.50. Pretty Rockers in oak and mahogany wood, cobbler and leather seat. A good nurse or sewing Rocker for 60 cents; others at $1.50 to $12.00.

NEAT IN APPEARANCE and MODERATELY PRICED

Chamber Suits, Odd Dressers, Chiffoniers, and

Wardrobes. $8.50 up.

Suits From $27.50 to $200.00 Extension Tables and Dining Chairs.

Lace Curtains, Portieres, Mattings, &c., &c.

ROTHERT & CO.,

Home Furnishers,

FOURTH AND BROAD STREETS.

his notice against the Southern Railway for forty thousand dollars damages for injuries received by Captain George D. Price, who lost the best part of both hands near Drake's Branch several months ago in a wreck. It will come up in Charlotte county.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Davis of Williamsburg, N. C., are spending a few days with their people here.

Miss Marye Fowles left Monday last for her home near Hampden-Sidney. She will return next week.

Mrs. R. D. Diggs, who spent the summer with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Staples near here, left on Wednesday last for her home in Winchester.

Mr. W. P. Wall spent Tuesday last in Falmville.

Miss Eva Vaughan, of Nottoway, is the guest of Mrs. W. H. Ewing.

Old Estate For Sale.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ROXBURY, VA., Oct. 31.—Belle Isle, the beautiful and historic old Gordon homestead, located about two miles north of Roxbury, is now for sale. This farm is situated on the Chickahominy river, and the old mansion, which sits back on a high hill, was built more than a hundred years ago. It was here that Mrs. E. K. Christian successfully conducted the well known Belle Isle Academy. At this school many of our prominent men and women were educated. Belle Isle has been the home of some of Virginia's most prominent families, namely, the Gordons, Christians and Waddells.

Mr. R. T. Stokes, of North Dakota, has purchased the farm recently owned by Mr. L. Leber. Mr. Stokes expects his family to arrive in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kay have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lee Kay, to Mr. Walter Anderson. The ceremony will take place at Providence Methodist Episcopal Church next Wednesday evening.

THE GLOBE CLOTHING CO. THE GLOBE CLOTHING CO.

The Boys' Store—2nd Floor.

MONDAY MORNING

we place on sale 100 Two-Piece Suits, size 9 to 16 years, at

$1.48

NAVY BLUE JEANS AND FANCY MIXTURES.

Extra Special! CORDUOY KNEE TROUSERS,

Pure finis mouse color Corduroy, reinforced seams, pant waistband and butts. 48c

BOYS' THANKSGIVING SUITS.

Charming Blouse and dove-breasted jacket Suits, in fancy chevrons. $1.8

The come-to-stay Norfolk tie and double-breasted suits, in all-wool cassimers. $1.8

Handsomely ornamented navy blouse and double-breasted suits. $2.8

Russian blouse Suits of unusual quality, Norfolk and sailor blouse Suits. $2.8

BOYS